

James + James: A Resource List

Websites

www.merchantivory.com

Merchant Ivory Productions provides descriptions & stills of all of James Ivory's films

<http://www.hallwalls.org/pubs/71.html> (The Work Of James Blue, A Retrospective)

Exhibit catalog for a 2005 retrospective curated by Gerald O'Grady. A comprehensive look at James Blue's career.

www.jamesbluetribute.com

Anne Richardson covered the 2013-2014 James Blue Tribute, writing about every James Blue film screened in that retrospective.

www.jamesblue.org

The James & Richard Blue Foundation, founded in 2013, has several initiatives underway.

www.jamesblue.uoregon.edu

The University of Oregon, James Blue's alma mater, begins a digitizing some of his papers and sharing them online.

Books

James Ivory In Conversation: How Merchant Ivory Makes Its Movies, by Robert Emmet Long. Wonderful, wide ranging conversations reveal anecdotally the behind the scenes evolution of the creative partnership between producer Ismail Merchant, screenwriter Ruth Praver Jhabvala, and director James Ivory, from James Ivory's point of view.

A Wandering Company: Twenty One Years Of Merchant Ivory Films, by John Pym. British Film Institute/Museum of Modern Art published this look back on two decades of Merchant Ivory. Published just before A ROOM WITH A VIEW skyrocketed them to fame. Includes commentary by James Ivory. Companion volume to documentary by the same name.

Buffalo Heads: Media Study, Media Practice, Media Pioneers, 1973-1990, ed. by Woody Vasulka and Peter Weibel. Best source of information about James Blue. Discussions of his work, plus Blue's own writing. Superb.

Documentaries

A Wandering Company: Twenty One Years Of Merchant Ivory Films, produced by Roger Angell and written by John Pym. British Film Institute/Museum of Modern Art created this low key and observant profile of Ismail Merchant, Ruth Praver Jhabvala and James Ivory. Can be found as an extra on the Merchant Ivory Collection DVD of Howard's End.

www.midcenturyoregongenius.wordpress.com